3) THE THIRTIETH CONVOCATION CEREMONY

4TH March, 2014

Convocation Address by Hon'ble Chief Guest Shri Sudhir Thakare
Chairman, M.P.S.C.

Let me first extend my heartful gratitude to this august institution for bestowing an opportunity to be the Chief Guest for the convocation, because I am a student having obtained my graduation and post graduation degrees in the years 1974 and 1976 respectively when the whole Vidharbha region was under the aegis of erstwhile Nagpur university which is subsequently bifurcated into two universities namely, Sant Gadgebaba Amravati University and Rasta Santh Tukdoji Maharaj Nagpur University. It has indeed a rare opportunity to be present as a Chief Guest at the convocation of the university which had conferred degrees upon me as a disciple.

This university has received a most appropriate name of Sant Gadgebaba who devoted his whole life in the cause of spreading the virtue of education in the society particularly amongst its most deprived and vulnerable constituents. Very purpose of education is to cleanse mind, body and soul leading to awakening & awareness. The spread of educational spectrum by Sant Gadge Baba has contributed towards not only physical & environmental cleaning but also helped enriching intellectual, emotional and spiritual aspects of the society. How the messages of cleanliness were integrated with value education by our social, political and intellectual leaders can be understood from their quotes, which I repeat,

"All of us will have to put in much more efforts than what we had to for obtaining the freedom of the country in cleaning the country and educating the masses" – Mahatma Gandhi

"I will gauze the perfectness of the Indian freedom when no women in this country will have to go for defecation in open and when every mother in the country can teach her child" – Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru

"Learn, Organize, Fight" – Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar.

Sant Gadge baba in his unique style has led and spread the same philosophy in a bottom-up manner. Therefore there cannot be any other appropriate name by which this university could have been christened. I pray my homage to this great sole, Sant Gadgebaba, on this occasion.

The objective of the Education is to impart knowledge, values and a skills so that each one can lead his life individually, socially and spiritually. It is also been described by educationists as the development of 3H – Head, Heart and Hand. Education is also a means to inculcate and develop appropriate intelligent, emotional and empathy quotient in an individual. The importance of education is so significant in one's life that the Supreme Court while extending the ambit of a fundamental right from "Right to life" to "Right to life with dignity" has emphasized education as one of the most essential ingradients.

It is therefore obvious for any university to assess its performance not merely from how many student have passed or how many faculties have been started or how many doctorates have been conferred but how much knowledge skills and values have been infused amongst their students which would lead them to be a responsible individual, an accountable family head and a proud citizen

Shri Sudhir Thakare
Chairman, M.P.S.C.

. Not the number of the students getting degrees but their quality from the perspective I just mentioned should be a criterion for the evaluation of the performance of any university. I am sure Sant Gadgebaba University is treading this path since 1st May, 1983, the day of its establishment with 413 affiliated colleges, 23 post graduate departments, 3 Lakh student enrolment and able teaching faculty strength of 5,200.

This is an age of competition. Competition in all spheres of life. Competition amongst individuals, students, nations, states, economies, and so on. With fundamental tenets of equality before law and equal protection of law, complimented by right to education, there is now ample scope for each individual to excel irrespective of region, religion, sex, caste, class and the universities have most important role to play in this regard.

Yet another important function of the education is to inculcate among students the capacity as to "How to think". However, the lacunae in our educational system right from primary level to the graduation or doctoral level education, is that we are rather preparing our student not for thinking but for "How not to think". The dwindling inclination of the students towards research, also points towards this trait : Developing sense of enquiry, analytical mind set in assimilating the knowledge are the missing areas in today's educational pattern which needs introspection by all of us. Even the fundamental duties enshrined in the Constitution urges us to develop the scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry and reform and to strive towards excellence in all spheres of individual and collective activities so that nation constantly rises to higher levels of endeavour and achievement. But we seem to be hardly emulating the spirit of these provisions in our realm. I say this from some of the situations I encountered in last two years in my capacity as the Chairman of the Maharashtra Public Service Commission. I am really worried when I cannot get three times the Engineering graduates of the number of vacancies who could secure minimum 30 to 35 percentage marks in the competitive examination for the engineer's recruitment in the State Services, though thousands of youngsters appear in the competitive examination, particularly when syllabus is equivalent to the engineering graduation levels. Similarly I am scared when I cannot get even three times the candidates of the number of vacancies obtaining more than 40% marks to be called for the interview for the Judicial Magistrate vacancies when thousand of law graduates are appearing in the competitive examination. We should give a serious thought to this issue and deliberate what is lacking, how to address this lacunae & what measures are required to be taken. Around 15 Lakh candidates aspire for around 5 to 6 thousand Government vacancies every year in administrative, technical, professional and managerial posts under the state government. It means only one out 300 students appearing in the competitive examination finally gets selected. Even then we cannot get sufficient candidates passing the bare minimum standard to be called for the interviews is really worrisome. Overall standard of the education needs severe scrutiny.

We rightly deem our demographic dividend as an asset for nation building, accelerated growth and inclusive development. However our aspiring youth force, particularly university going and just passed out age group in 18 to 29 year range is most vital, yet may prove most vulnerable if not handled properly at this stage. This demographic dividend can degenerate into social unrest, economic burden and political distress if we fail to confer university education a credibility as an instrument to career building. A national statistics reveal that over 40% of our university techno-graduates are unemployable or lack market required Skill Set to start their own enterprises. The percentage is much more in non technical areas. Around 10 Lakh youth are added each month to working age population of which substantial share is generated through universities in the country. If this state of affairs is not addressed promptly and effectively the demographic advantage, instead of proving a boon, may become a bane for us and the universities have a major and significant role to play to transform this scenario.

I would also like to bring to your kind knowledge yet another observation regarding the regional imbalance found in the selection of the State Civil Services in Maharashtra. The statistics of the last few years reveal that percentage of young graduates getting selected from the Amravati university area of 5 districts is just 5 percent. The Nagpur University areas is even worse with around 3% share, whereas five districts of Pune region has a share of 55% to 60%. Thus the regional imbalance in the Vidharbha area is not only found in physical, infrastructural, social and other traditional development areas but even in the Public Services of the Government of the State. This further results into many important technical, administrative, professional positions in as vital services as health, education, nutritions, engineering remaining vacant for years in this region. It is not that the student in this region do not have potential to be good engineers, administrators, educationist but the orientation required to prepare them for these services in this age of stiff competition needs to be boosted by taking appropriate measures. I think the universities like yours have a vital role to play in this regard. I had also brought this aspect to the knowledge of Hon'ble Governor who is also the Chancellor of the universities in the State. However, I take this opportunity to put fourth this issues before this august gathering comprising of student, teachers, educationists and also the social and political leadership who have a genuine concern for developing this region. I think discussions, deliberations should be initiated in this regard so that solutions can be found and appropriate measures can be taken to ameliorated this situation.

Dear students, I have put forth these issues before you on this day when you are getting your degrees and when you all are stepping into a new world full of opportunities yet challenges. I am sure the university has well equipped you with appropriate tools to grab these opportunities and face the challenges forcefully. I congratulate you all for successfully accomplishing this mission of your life and special congratulation to those who passed with distinctions and merit. I also hope the authorities of the university to take my suggestions in right perspective so that Sant Gadgebaba Amravati University will become a prominent academic institution in the country, in the world, worth its name.

12) Competitive Examinations Guidance Centre

Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University Amravati submitted a proposal for Competitive Examination Guidance Centre (UPSC) for Civil Services Prelims Examination to Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Training and Research Institute (BARTI) Pune, affiliated to Social Justice Department, Government of Maharashtra. The proposal got sanction to execute the scheme releasing the funds after due MoU between the Organization and the University.

Scheduled Cast (SC) students were eligible to undertake coaching as per the terms and conditions of the BARTI. The eligible students were selected by a Common Entrance Test conducted by BARTI and a batch of fifty students was allotted, out of which forty students confirmed their admissions to study at the Competitive Examination Guidance Centre (UPSC), Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University. The necessary infrastructure was provided by the University in the Department of Botany.

The coaching started from 03/02/2014 by inviting faculties/experts from Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University and from the related field. The coaching and the practice tests were planned according to the "Coaching and Test Plan for UPSC Civil Services Exam (Prelims) -2014", provided by BARTI. Students were coached in Indian Economy, Indian Polity, Indian and World Geography, Environment & Ecology and Ancient, Medieval & Modem Indian History etc. Concurrently topics related to CSAT (Civil Services Aptitude Test) were also covered. They include Numerical Ability, Logical Reasoning, Analytical Reasoning, Data Interpretation, Decision Making and English Reading & Comprehension etc. along with these topics, topics related to Right to Information, Science, Information Technology, Space Science and Intellectual Properties Rights were also taught. The continuous evaluation of the students was done by conducting a practice test after completion of a component by the concerned faculty, BARTI also conducted a test every month across the state in an uniform manner.

The students were motivated visit and use library facilities available in the Departmental library as well as in the University central library.

Students received a stipend of Rs. 4,000/- (Rs. Four thousand only) per month subject to the guidelines of BARTI. Every regular student was also provided with special cash assistance of Rs. 6000/- (one time) to purchase books required for regular studies.
